DEE = Dividend in Excess of Earnings. The DEE is being paid from Ichigo Green’s solar power production revenues (which Ichigo Green receives in cash) that are not treated as income under Japanese tax rules because they are offset by non-cash depreciation expenses.

Note:

Ichigo Green has a one-year fiscal period running from July to June. Because there is no regulatory framework in Japan for Investment Corporations to pay dividends except at fiscal period-end, Ichigo Green therefore pays its dividend once a year. The annual dividend results both in lower administrative costs and a dividend that is not impacted by seasonal changes in solar power generation (as a semi-annual dividend would be).

2. FY20/6 Earnings Forecast Revision Rationale

Despite adverse weather conditions such as typhoons and occasional EPCO suspensions of energy purchases, FY20/6 power generation was in line with initial forecasts. Because power plant operating expenses came in below forecast, Ichigo Green is thus revising up its FY20/6 earnings forecast, including raising the dividend forecast by 6.2%.

Ichigo Green will announce its FY20/6 earnings on August 11, 2020.
